Overview: Frontline beach apartment within the naturist community of Costa Natura, right outside the town of Estepona. A beautiful white-washed pueblo-style community with its own beach, established as a nudist place since its beginning in the '80's. This apartment is located at the front of the community and enjoys direct views to the sea from the terrace and the apartment itself. It is the result of joining together 2 one-bedroom apartments, and hence it has two terraces of 10m² each on either side of the property. Currently the apartment has one bedroom and one bathroom, however it is a small task to set up a wall to make another bedroom where it was previously. The apartment has a new very spacious kitchen, with an open plan aspect to the living room. It is an elevated ground floor apartment, accessed by a few steps from the walkways in the garden.
