Vue d'ensemble: This small property built in the late 70's is now available for sale. It is a good size property with a lot of potential. It has two bedrooms both of them have been recently restored. A fully fitted kitchen and you have got a good size built in terrace for office space - living and kitchen are open concept. The plus point of this property is that it is a very good deal and a fantastic location. For those who love the beach and might even know Sonorah beach bar, this is an absolute recommendation as a permanent home or a second home on the beach, Sonorah beach bar is walking distance away, so no more driving.
